Do You Know What Children Are Thinking About Xie Yingna

The book Do You Know What Children Are Thinking About interprets the psychology behind children's words and deeds from psychological and sociological perspectives, telling those loving parents that education should follow the law of physical and mental development of the children. Parents should not educate the children without any social experience too subjectively. In fact, most of the children's mistakes are caused by parents' mistakes, because parents are too used to weighing and considering what children are thinking with their own cognition as adults. Only through observing and understanding children's psychological language, can the estrangement between parents and children be removed and the family education work.
