The Black American: A Documentary History, Revised Edition of the Negro American Jr. Leslie H. Fishel, Benjamin Quarles

This revised and up-to-date edition of a standard work in black history uses contemporary personal accounts, newspaper articles, travel tales, memoirs, speeches, and other documents to trace the history of the black American from his African background through Colonial America and the Revolution, slavery and abolition, Reconstruction, urbanization and renaissance, the New Deal to the March on Washington and the assertion of black power. The documents, together with the lucid introductions and head-notes by the authors and a large number of excellent illustrations, reveal the black man's role in the building of America - political, economic, military, educational and artistic. His slavery and struggles for freedom and equality are also well documented.
