Schopenhauer as Educator: Nietzsche's Third Untimely Meditation Friedrich Nietzsche

Nietzsche's Third Untimely Meditation is not only his homage to Schopenhauer, but a reflection on education in the most comprehensive sense. Many of Nietzsche's writings aimed at instructing the modern world on how to philosophize with a sledgehammer, thundering about the need to sacrifice meaningless millions to the worthy few — but the premise of the Third Meditation is altogether different, namely the singular marvel that is every human being. True educators help us to identify the uniqueness that makes us special, but they can only point the way: "No one can build you the bridge on which you, and only you, must cross the river of life. There is one path in the world that none can walk but you. Where does it lead? Don't ask, walk!"
